

Narayana Health City – A One Stop Healthcare Destination

Narayana Health City was established in 2001 as a cardiac facility by Dr. Devi Prasad Shetty has now grown into a Multispeciality Tertiary Care Health City that also offers treatment for Cancer, Neurosciences, Gastrosciences, Renal Sciences, Obstetrics & Gynecology.

The flagship Narayana Health City is a 26 acre property in Bangalore, India with over 3000 beds distributed among these in Narayana Institute of Cardiac Sciences, the world's largest cardiac facility, successfully treating adults and children with complex heart conditions from several countries around the world.

Also on the frontline is Mazumdar Shaw Medical Center, which houses one of India's most advanced Cancer facility – Mazumdar Shaw Cancer Center, for treatment and research in various types of cancers. Mazumdar Shaw Medical Center offers treatment in more than 30 different clinical departments with Treatment excellence in areas such as neurosciences, renal sciences and transplant surgery. In addition to this a host of other medical, surgical and diagnostic facilities and services are available

Equipped with all super specialty and tertiary care facilities that the medical world has to offer, it is now a one-stop destination for any healthcare requirement a common man needs. It may be noted that the affluent come here for the world's best healthcare and the poor come here for the focused attention they can get from a private hospital.
